

COLLINS HAS A CHANCE.

Surgeons Say the Foot-Racer's Wound May Not Prove Fatal.

Dolan Identified in the Hospital by His Victim To-Day.

HARRISON, N. J., April 17.—James, alias "Tucker," Collins, the foot-racer, who was shot yesterday afternoon by Patrick J. Dolan, a saloon-keeper at 84 Pacific street, Newark, has a fair chance to recover.

The physician of St. Michael's Hospital, Newark, where Collins was taken, thinks that he will probably pull through.

The wound has not yet been probed.

The shooting grew out of Collins losing a race with James Green at the Kearny Athletic Grounds yesterday afternoon.

Dolan, who was Collins' backer, lost some $250. As Collins was coming back to dress after the race Dolan walked up behind him, and without saying a word shot him in the back just over the right hip.

Dolan used a .32-caliber five-shotter, and after shooting, was seen loading the gun and four loaded cartridges on the floor, where they were found by Matthew Smith and William Brewster.

George Linn, James Miller and William Paul all saw the shooting. Their evidence was taken this morning by Chief of Police Mulligan, of Harrison. Paul was arrested and held for trial, and looked up at the Harrison police station.

This morning Dolan was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where Collins identified him.

Dolan made no denial then, but at the station soon afterwards he said that he did not shoot Collins; that it was some other man.

He admitted having told Collins that he would shoot him if he did not act fairly with him.

Dolan will be committed to the Hudson County Jail this afternoon without bail, to await trial.

Collins is twenty-eight years of age and lives at 210 East Eleventh street, New York. He has a mother in Wisconsin. For some time past he has been with Barnum's circus, running races against horses.

Hood's Cures

A Business Man's Letter

GREAT PREJUDICE OVERCOME.

Intense Misery with Dyspepsia—No Help from Physicists, but HOOD'S CURE.

C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

"I have been led to believe from a number of physicians that the great benefit have received from Hood's Cures."

"For twenty years I have been a constant sufferer with dyspepsia, have spent many hundreds of dollars in various treatments, but only temporary relief. I have always had an aversion to medicine, but could my tendency to convulsions be overcome?"

A Heretic Avoweth.

"Those who have had no contact with dyspepsia have no conception of the misery I endure, and those that do need no description of the horrors of the malady's disease."

"Then I who I chanced to meet in recent to absent physicians, in old friend had been affected for many years with dyspepsia, and for a few months I noticed that he had been treated in the same way as myself, and that the treatment was not good, and that the disease was not cured, but urged by my most sincere to go somewhere else, I finally yielded and began to take Hood's Cures."

Hood's Saraparitic.

"I am using my fourth to lie, and feel better than I have in twenty years, and consider myself cured. Use this statement as you please. I have been in constant business ever over forty years." Frank C. Stuart, Marshal, Mass.
